ARMY SURGEON PASSES AWAY IN NIGHT; WIDOW ENROUTE TO COAST

COLONEL APPEL FOUND DEAD IN BED THIS A. M.

Was On Duty Yesterday and Sudden Demise Proves Severe Shock to Friends

HAD BEEN CONNECTED WITH ARMY 32 YEARS

Detailed as Department Surgeon of Hawaiian Department About a Year Ago

Col. Daniel M. Appel, of the United States army medical corps, was found dead in his bed at noon today, in his quarters, 417 Wyllie street. Heart failure is believed to have been the cause.

Col. Appel's death comes as a particularly great shock to his friends and associates both in and out of the army, since he had had practically no premonitory illness. Although he had been complaining of not feeling very well for several days, he had been on duty as usual yesterday, and was with friends last evening. His non-appearance until noon today finally caused the house servants to become alarmed, with the result that his dead body was found, death having apparently come during sleep.

Col. Appel was 60 years of age, and has been in ordinarily vigorous health, considering his years, and only a few weeks ago successfully passed the rigorous test prescribed for all officers on active duty. He was married, and his wife left here last week by the Manchuria for a visit to the mainland and is either at sea or has just reached San Francisco. He also leaves several sons, who are in business on the mainland.

Col. Daniel M. Appel was in his 60th year at the time of his death, having been born in the state of Pennsylvania October 28, 1854. He entered the medical department of the army in August, 1876, as assistant surgeon, reached the rank of captain in 1881, major in 1895, lieutenant-colonel in 1904, and attained the grade of colonel December 12, 1908. He was the fourth ranking colonel in his corps, and if the present agitation to raise the rank of the surgeon-general to major-general, and give the medical corps a brigadier-general in addition, come to anything, Colonel Appel stood a good chance of getting his star.

Colonel Appel came here about a year ago, soon after Hawaii was made a territorial department, becoming an appropriate command for his rank. He has been department surgeon since coming here, having held the same office in the central department just prior to coming to Hawaii.

Colonel Appel was apparently in the best of health right up to the time of his death. Last night he attended the entertainment on the Young. Hotel roof garden with a party of friends, and never appeared in better spirits.
Only a few weeks ago he took the test ride for officers, which includes rigorous physical examinations before and after the ride, and these he passed without trouble.

Colonel Appel had a wide circle of friends here. By nature he was genial and democratic, turning acquaintances into friends in short order.

Huerta's Action Construed as Virtual Declaration of War

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—(8:15 p. m.) American Charge d'affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy is safe, according to a brief dispatch received here late tonight. No details are to hand.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—Secretary of State is worried about American Charge d'affaires Nelson O'Shaughnessy, who is reported to have been assassinated.

Bryan cabled for a full report of Mexican conditions and says he believes O'Shaughnessy is safe, although nothing has been heard from him since Monday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—Huerta orders O'Shaughnessy out of Mexico, which is virtually a declaration of war.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, emphatically denies that Secretary of State Bryan, or any other member of the cabinet has tendered his resignation.

This denial is made to offset a rumor that has spread rapidly through official Washington during the past 24 hours.

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 22.—It is reported here late tonight that Manager J. W. Siple and a large number of men had taken refuge in the Empire mine, which has been sealed and fired by the strikers.
Great fear is entertained for the lives of the entombed men as it is believed they will be overcome with the gases from the coal before aid can reach them.

ROYAL DEATH CHANGES PLANS OF EXCURSIONISTS

Many Formal Functions for Hawaii's Party in Japan
Are Postponed

PECULIAR CUSTOM DELAYS ANNOUNCEMENT OF DEATH

Honolulu Delegation Present at Railway Station as Imperial Funeral Train Passes

By RILEY H. ALLEN
[Staff Correspondence] YOKOHAMA, Japan, April 10.—An event of tragic sadness to the Japanese people, the sudden death of the Empress Dowager Haruko at a time when she seemed to be recovering from a serious illness, has made a material change in the plans of the Hawaii excursion party and resulted in a hasty postponement of all dates for dinners, receptions and the many other formal functions arranged in honor of the visitors.

The death of the dowager empress has also brought forth an extraordinary state of affairs. The death occurred presumably about 2:10 o'clock yesterday morning. Yet as this is written, more than thirty-six hours afterward, no announcement whatever has been made beyond the fact that her majesty is "beyond hope of recovery." The reason for this is distinctly Oriental. Her majesty died at the imperial villa at Numazu, by the seaside, where she had gone to spend the winter. All announcements of deaths in the royal family are made from Aoyama Palace, Tokyo. Therefore until the body of the late queen arrives at Tokyo, it will not be announced that death has occurred.

Even the English newspapers are exceedingly guarded in their significant intimations that the dowager empress is so critically ill that all hope has been abandoned. Thus the Japan Times this morning speaks of a special train being ordered to bring the dowager to Tokyo, gives the program for the royal retinue and its itinerary through the streets, the make-up of the imperial cortege and then goes on to say:

"At the time of the arrival of the train conveying the empress dowager the emperor will dispatch a chamberlain as imperial messenger to receive her majesty." The paper then continues: "The announcement of the sad event will be published tonight."

When the body of the empress dowager reaches the imperial palace, the death will have officially occurred.

In the meantime the various publications and utterances regarding the dowager's condition have been so fraught with grave meaning that the larger cities know of the death and already there are signs that it will soon be a nation mourning for a na-

PACHECO READY TO QUIT CHAIRMANSHIP OF ELECTRIC DEPT.

A row begun six weeks ago between Supervisor M. C. Pacheco and W. L. Frazee, city and county electrician, and brought to a head last night at a meeting of the board of supervisors, may result in Pacheco resigning from his place as chairman of the electric committee.

The dispute last night was over Frazee's contract with the Hawaiian Electric company for the supply of current pending the repair of the pipe line in Nuuanu valley above the water station.

"I object to such a contract being let without conferring with me. As chairman of the committee, I have a right to know what contracts are to be made," declared Pacheco, heatedly.

Frazee explained that he had conferred with Supervisor W. H. McClain, one of the members of the committee, and that the latter had authorized him to make the contract.

This did not satisfy Pacheco. "You should have taken this up with the chairman of the committee. Even if you have no regard for me personally, as chairman of the committee I demand recognition."

The trouble between Frazee and Pacheco began a few weeks ago when the supervisor criticized the electrician for not having a tool box put on a runabout machine bought for him to be used in his work. The box was eventually put on, but not the kind desired by the chairman.

After the row, Pacheco said he was ready to resign as chairman of the committee, and would have resigned last night had McClain been present.
"I wanted him to be here," he said.
